

UbD-Related Websites

Compiled and updated by Jay McTighe and Sandy Kleinman

We have compiled the following collection of websites in support of curriculum and assessment design using the Understanding by Design (UbD)® framework. Since this is a pdf file, not all of the links will function as hyperlinks, so you may have to copy and paste them into a browser to open them.

Note: There are many valuable resources contained in these websites. However, not all of the examples are perfect, so be a critical consumer. Stars are used to offer particular commendations:  Highly Recommended * Recommended

Please e-mail me (jay@mctighe-associates.com) if you discover outdated links as well as other useful sites that should be added to this list.

GENERAL WEBSITES

STATES/PROVINCES

The following websites provide Understanding by Design® related resources from States/Provinces, School Districts, and Schools.

* Massachusetts DOE

Through the Race to the Top Initiative, teams of educators from across the state used the UbD Framework to develop more than 100 pre-k to grade 12 model curriculum units in English language arts and literacy, history/social science, mathematics, the arts and science and technology/ engineering.

A free registration is required to access these materials at the following website:

http://www.doe.mass.edu/candi/model/download_form.aspx

* A series of classroom videos showing some of these units in use.

<http://www.doe.mass.edu/candi/model/videos/MCUs.html>

* Literacy Design Collaborative has developed sample curricula built around performance tasks for E/LA, Social Studies/History, Science, Math, Reading and CTE. <https://coretools ldc.org/curriculumLibrary>

Sample curricula from various LDC partners can be found at

<http://ldc.org/sample-curricula>

* Engage New York offers a searchable database of curriculum and assessment resources aligned to the Common Core Standards for pre-K – 12 in E/LA and Mathematics.

<https://www.engageny.org>

Ohio DOE provides model curricula in E/LA, Mathematics, Science and Social Studies, along with strategies for working with diverse learners. The E/LA curriculum models include Enduring Understandings; some Social Studies units contain Understandings under “topics” and some of the Mathematics units include Common Misconceptions.

- MATH – <http://education.ohio.gov/Topics/Learning-in-Ohio/Mathematics/Model-Curricula-in-Mathematics>

- E/LA <http://education.ohio.gov/Topics/Learning-in-Ohio/English-Language-Art/Model-Curriculum-for-English-Language-Arts>

- SOCIAL STUDIES <http://education.ohio.gov/Topics/Learning-in-Ohio/Social-Studies>

New York City a searchable database of curriculum and assessment resources. Click on “GRADE,” “SUBJECT” AND “EDUCATIONAL USE” filters to search via grade levels and subjects. <https://www.weteachnyc.org/>

Pennsylvania – The Pennsylvania Department of Education has established the Standards Aligned System (SAS) containing curriculum resources. Click on “CHOOSE GRADES AND SUBJECTS” to select a content area (e.g., SAS Applied to Mathematics), a grade range (e.g., 6 – 8) and/or a Grade/Course (e.g., Pre-Algebra) to view Big Ideas (understandings) and Essential Questions. <http://www.pdesas.org/module/sas/curriculumframework/>

INTEL – Unit plans in various subjects and grades developed by Intel Education contain Essential Questions. Scroll down to “TEACHING IDEA SHOWCASE” and click on grade level for unit and lesson plans.

<https://www.intel.com/content/www/us/en/education/k12/teachers.html>

Interdisciplinary Units – Unit plans for various grades created around an interdisciplinary, thematic approach are based on the work of Dr. Roger Taylor.

 News Literacy Project – The News Literacy Project is a national nonprofit offering programs that teach students how to know what to believe in the digital age with an critical analysis and journalistic skills

<http://www.thenewsliteracyproject.org/checkology>

* The Document Based Questions Project is committed to helping teachers implement rigorous writing and thinking activities with students of all skill levels. The Project has materials in American and World History. All of the DBQs are written at two ability levels, thus making the sophisticated Document-Based Question exercise available to a wide range of classrooms and grade levels.

<http://www.dbqproject.com/>

* World Wise Schools (The Peace Corps) has developed curriculum materials based on UbD reflecting various cultures and various cultures.

<https://www.peacecorps.gov/educators/resources/>

* Literacy Design Collaborative has developed sample curricula built around performance tasks for E/LA, Social Studies/History, Science, Math, and CTE.

<https://coretools ldc.org/curriculumLibrary>

Sample curricula from various LDC partners can be found at

<http://ldc.org/sample-curricula>

 The Stanford History Education Group has produced nearly ninety U.S. and World History lessons involving primary source documents.

<https://sheg.stanford.edu/history-lessons>

 The National Museum of the American Indian (NMAI) Native Knowledge provides Understandings that are built around the ten themes of the National Council for the Social Studies' national curriculum standards. The Understandings reveal key concepts about the rich and diverse cultures, histories, and contemporary lives of Native peoples.

<http://nmai.si.edu/nk360/understandings.cshml>

 Teaching American History provides American History Toolkits – topically focused collections that include documents, guiding questions, webinars, podcasts, lessons, and other resources for major units of study.

<http://teachingamericanhistory.org/>

<http://teachingamericanhistory.org/teacher-resources/>

* Facing History and Ourselves provides an extensive collection of curricular materials, that integrate history/social studies, literature and human behavior, and focus on critical thinking and social-emotional learning.

<https://www.facinghistory.org/>

* Teaching Tolerance provides a wide variety of curricular resources for associated with helping teachers and schools educate children and youth to be active participants in a diverse democracy. Resources are aligned with the c3 Social Studies Standards. One of their newest resources is the digital literacy framework, which identifies competencies students need to be responsible consumers and producers of online content.

 ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS *****

* Essential Question Website was created by Grant Wiggins and Jay McTighe provide resources, including sample Essential Questions, video tutorials, classroom examples, and a “give one, get many” database where teachers can contribute their EQs.

<http://www.essentialquestions.org>

* A More Perfect Question website contains many thought-provoking questions in various subject areas.

<http://amorebeautifulquestion.com>

* Ask Big Questions – A website that poses “big (essential) questions” around important topics that matter to all of us, regardless of our religious traditions, cultural heritage, race, ethnicity, gender, and personal or political beliefs. A new, thought-provoking question is posed each month. (Note: Educator discretion is needed since not all posted questions will be appropriate to raise with students).

<http://www.askbigquestions.org/>

Notosh – Ideas for guiding students to create their own essential questions as part of “design thinking.”

STAGE 2 – PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENTS and RUBRICS

Here is a collection of websites containing resources for performance assessment tasks and rubrics. The list begins with general sites, followed by links in various subject areas.

* Defined Learning Jay has worked with Defined Learning to develop:

1. Seven blogs on the design and use of Performance Tasks (right side of screen)
2. A set of on-line online professional development modules (left side of screen)

<http://www.performancetask.com/>

* The Performance Assessment Resource Bank (SCALE) developed at Stanford University, this site offers a searchable database of curated performance assessments and associated resources that support their use by educators, schools, and districts and is designed as a platform to build an expanding collection of curated resources.

<http://www.performanceassessmentresourcebank.org/>

* Colorado Professional Learning Network offers an assessment resource bank that includes performance tasks in a searchable database. Search by subject, grade level, item type, and cost (many of the assessments are free).

<http://www.coloradoplc.org/assessment/assessments>

* Massachusetts DOE UbD Units contain embedded performance tasks Supported through the Race to the Top Initiative, teams of educators from Massachusetts used the UbD Framework to develop more than 100 pre-k to grade 12 model curriculum units in English language arts and literacy, history/social science, mathematics, and science and technology/ engineering. A free registration is required to access these materials at the following website:

http://www.doe.mass.edu/candi/model/download_form.aspx

* The Alberta Assessment Consortium (CN) offers a collection of quality performance tasks. Browse by grade and subject. Some of the collection is publically accessible and some is available only to members.

<http://www.aac.ab.ca/assessment-materials-2/>

 New Zealand Assessment Resource Bank offers a collection of performance tasks for mathematics, science, and E/LA.

<https://arbs.nzcer.org.nz/>

* Literacy Design Collaborative (LDC) – Funded by the Gates Foundation, the LDC has developed a set of task templates, mini tasks and instructional modules linked to the Common Core E/LA Standards. The templates support the integration of the E/LA Standards with content from Science, Social Studies and Technical subjects. Click on “sample curricula” to view samples of templates and modules. You will need to register (no cost) to access these resources. Click on “LDC Core Tools log in” to view sample templates, tasks and modules.

* The Buck Institute offers a searchable database of projects for Project-based Learning.

<http://www.bie.org/>

 High Tech High School offers a collection of authentic projects with rubrics and student samples.

<http://www.hightechhigh.org/projects/>

 Galileo offers resources for Inquiry and Project-Based Learning, including a rubric for judging inquiry-based projects.

<http://galileo.org>

* Defined STEM has developed 100+ performance tasks/projects and associated rubrics based on various career areas. The tasks use the GRASPS format from UbD to establish an authentic scenario. A unique feature is the inclusion of a motivating video that shows “real world” applications of knowledge to set up the task.
